2004
10
Democratically-elected President Jean Bertrand Aristide reports that he was kidnapped and taken by force from his country by American and French military operatives. Aristide was the first elected president in Haiti's 200-year history. In the 1990's several puppet military dictatorships and governments occurred around Aristide's multiple exiles.
República Dominicana
1963-1965
2
A destabilization campaign against President Juan Bosch culminates in a coup. The U.S. sends 22,000 soldiers to combat constitutionalist forces that fight for Bosch's return.
1965 - 1966
3
During the "intervention for the stabilization" of the presumed anarchy that started in the Dominican Republic, the American government sends in 14,000 soldiers.
Cuba
1959 - 2004
2
Anti-Castro exiles invade Cuba in April 1961 and are swiftly defeated by Cuban revolutionary forces at the Bay of Pigs. In the following decades, the U.S. tries everything from assassination attempts against Cuban president Fidel Castro to an economic embargo to propaganda campaigns to dislodge the Cuban government.
Venezuela
2002-2004
10
In April 2002, the business-led opposition to President Hugo Chavez launches a coup with American help. Chavez retakes control of the country days following two days of massive street protests demanding his return. Destabilizing actions funded by millions of dollars from the National Endowment for Democracy continue to this day.
Brasil
1964
3
The CIA spends millions to destabilize the government of President Joao Goulart culminating in a military coup. Goulart had initiated a series of reforms that limited the profits of transnational companies and he nationalized a subsidiary of the IT&T.
Colombia
2003-2004
9
President Pastrana puts in motion the Plan Colombia, a program eradicating the growing of coca and the elimination of opposition to his U.S.-financed government. The U.S. Congress approves 1.3 billion dollars in assistance with the majority for military and police support. More than a million peasant farmers have been forced from rural zones caused by spoon-fed earth policy of Colombian military and paramilitary forces under American guidance.
Bolivia
1967
3
A local military group, supported by anti-revolutionary American agents, assassinate Comandante Che Guevara.
1986
7
Troops from the United States military direct the repression against producers of coca. DEA agents directly participate in the Santa Cruz and Villa Tunari massacres.
Chile
1973
4
"I don't see why we need to stand by and watch a country go communist due to the irresponsibility of its own people," Henry Kissinger said when Socialist Salvador Allende was elected president of Chile in 1970. Three years later, Allende is deposed in a U.S.-backed coup. More than 3,000 leftists are murdered during the 17-year military dictatorship that follows.
Uruguay
5
On the 4th of July, 34 Uruguayan and Chilean political refugees are kidnapped and tortured by Chilean and Uruguay Intelligence Service as part of "Operation Condor", which was supported by the CIA, persecuted leftists active in the Southern Cone countries of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Paraguay, Uruguay, and Bolivia.
